HER REMARKS ABOUT THE BIG BRIDGE AND CITY INSTITUTIONS - THE PRINCESS

ALSO TAKES A QUIET STROLL. The Infanta Eulalie displayed a broad and philo sophical knowledge of things physiological, psychical and ethical yesterday. This was one of the questions and ethical yesterday. This was the President's yacht, the Dolphin, on which they were, passed kandall's Island:

"Is it not found that the active brainwork of your people tends to the increase of insanity?" General Perter was compelled to admit that statistics showed such to be the case. The General, ordinarily fluent and troadly informed as he is, was put on his mettle to answer all the Infanta's questions, and keep page with her observations on sociological matters, particularly those connected with great charitable institutions, reformatories and The princess had her full English prisons. The princess had not tall vocabulary with her, so much so that after she had viewed the Brooklyn Bridge from both sides and from beneath, she said:

It is a beautiful work of architecture and a marvellous piece of engineering."

CHATTING FOR A WHILE IN GERMAN. She also had several other languages within easy call, talked Spanish and French, and then turned to Mrs. Isidor Straus and chatted for a while in German. The trip on the Dolphin was declared to be a thoroughly delightful one, made without the slightest fatigue to the royal guest. The start from the Hotel Savoy for the bont landing at West Forty-second-st. was made at 10 a. m., Prince Antonio, the Infanta, the Duke of Tamames and General Porter going in the first carriage, and the Marchioness of Arco Hermosa, Senor Emilio de Muruaga, Don Pedro y ver and Commander Davis in the second. At the party was rowed to the steamer. On the bont were General and Mrs. James M. Varnum, Mr. and Mrs. Whitefaw Reid, General and Mrs. Louis Fitzgerald, Mr. and Mrs. J. I. C. Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. lames W. Tappin, Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Skinner, Con troller and Mrs. Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Isidor Straus, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. O'Donohue, Mrs. Wilmerding and Captain de la Vega, the commander of the Infanta Isabel.

SALUTED BY WARSHIPS.

As the Dolphin passed down the river there was the same noisy salute from warship, steamer and tug that always marks the Infanta's visits to Neptune's realm. The bands on all the war vessels played, and National flags and ensigns dipped. There was a veil of haze over the face of the harbor which thickened to a fog as the stenmer got near to Bedlow's Island, so that it was feared that adequate view of the great Bridge could be obtained. But when the vessel turned under the shadow of the Statue of Liberty, which reared itself so proudly and loftly over the deck where was the representa tive of monarchism, the fog lifted like a snowy curtain, and the broad sweep of the East River, with the span of the Eridge, lay clearly defined to

The Infanta and her party went up into the bridge of the wheel-house that the best view possible might be obtained. The Princess looked at the Brooklyn Bridge as the boat approached it, turned her eyes up the better to appreciate its vast pro-portions as the steamer passed under it, and looked back for several minutes when she was beyond it She expressed her delight at its beauty and great size, adding the very pertinent comment before quoted. The party then returned to the forward deck, where large comfortable chairs had been placed

PAMILIAR WITH PUBLIC CHARITIES.

General Porter stationed himself at the side of the Princess and pointed out the various islands and public institutions to her. She seemed familiar with public enterprises of such kind, and inquired particularly as to how the itsane were cared for, and complimented the methods in use when they were briefly explained. When Blackwell's Island was pointed out, the Princess said that from what she had been able to learn, ordinary prisoners here were treated with more consideration than in any other ntry, the prisons being better, the food better and the punishments more equifable and humane.

At 1 o'clock luncheon was served in the cabin, and it was declared by those who were there and ought know to have been "charming." The Infanta sat at a small square table, with General Porter at her right hand, the Duke of Tamames at her left and Prince Antonio opposite her. The other guests were served at small round tables. Luncheon lasted an hour, and then the Princess and the Marchioness reinto the Sound as far as Stepping Stone Ligat, where the turn was made for the homeward trip. The sky had clouded, and a light rain fell for about ten minutes, but it was heavy enough to drive the party from Carriages had been ordered for the party at the Bellevue Hospital landing, at East Twenty sixth-st., at 3 p. m. As the Dolphin neared the pier, a steam hunch was sent shend to see that they were there. Then the landing was made, and the royal party was driven to the hotel.

A few minutes after her return the Infanta and her husband quietly left the hotel by themselves and strolled through Fifty-eighth at, and up around the Columbus monument. The Princess were still the yachting costume with the red sailor hat which She had worn on the Dolphin. Neither Prince nor Princess was recognized in the stroll, and both returned to the Savoy about an hour later as quietly and unobserved as they had left it. The Princess did not go out last evening.

With the trip on the Dolphin the p-ogramme of entertainment, as laid out by the Committee of One Hunteliment, as laid out by the Committee of One Hundred, ended, and that committee is now dissolved. Today the Frincess and her suite, under the charge of Mayor Gilroy, will visit the Stock Exchange at 11:30 o'clock. Then they wil go to the United States Signal Tower on the top of the Equitable Boilding. A visit to Brooklyn Bridge will next be made, and the Infanta will ride across it and back in a cable car. She will then take a special train on the elevated railroad, which will go from the City Hall station to Chatham Square, then to Scath Ferry, and up the Sixth Avenue Line bo Frity-chikhat. The review of the 7th Regiment will be at 5 p. m. When the Frincess found that there was opposition to its taking place in Central Park she announced that she would not review the regiment there. The review will be in the plaza in front of the Hotel Savoy. As the balcony of the Infanta's sitting rooms on the second floor is too high for the Princess to see or be seen, a box for her and her party will be erected near the entrance of the hotel.

The Infanta had a treat last evening which was not down on the programme of the day. The sophomores of Columbia College in their annual "burial of mathematics," which was held last evening, thought it would give a flavor to their sport to march up before the Savoy and serenade the Spanish Princess with their college yells, their songs and their shouts. The procession of upwards of 100 "sophs," all dressed in high carnival fashion and bearing torches, came up Fifth-ave, and halted on the Plaza about 10 o'clock. The young men had two bands and many the horns. In a body they called for the Princess, and she, with that graciousness which shows so generously, responded by appearing on the balcony and warding to the boys on the street below her. The students went wild with satisfaction, and called again and again their college cry with "Eulaile' at the end. dred, ended, and that committee is now dissolved. To-

THE MAYOR COMMENDS THE 7TH REGIMENT ITS OFFICERS WITHDREW THEIR APPLICATION TO PARADE IN THE PARK QUT OF CON-SIDERATION FOR PUBLIC OPINION.

Mayor Gilroy seemed relieved yesterday that th hubbub raised over the proposed use of Central Park for a review of the 7th Regiment in honor of the Infanta had come to an end, sudden and satisfactory through the abandonment of the plan.

"While I did not originate the scheme for the re-view," said the Mayor, "I readily acceded to it when I was asked by some of the officers of the 7th Regi-ment II permission could not be had for a dress parade South Meadow. I decline to give the the officers. I informed the Princess last evening of the determination to change the plans regarding the 7th Regiment, and she said that she was highly pleased that the objection to the use of the park had been deferred to. It was the only thing, she said, which threatened to mar at all the unalloyed pleasure of her visit in New-York. To abandon the review in park was therefore the most sensible conclusion could be reached, and it met her cordin approval. "But I am of the opinion," the Mayor added, "that eight baseball clubs would do more damage to the Pirk than a whole regiment of militia and the people would come as sightseers. The proposal to withdraw from the proposition came from the same source the 7th Regiment itself. The officers realized source—the 7th Regiment itself.

that the use of the park for the purpose was not looked upon as proper by many of our citizens, and they decided, very wisely, I think, to give no cause for complaint. The police force which would have

THE INFANTA'S WATER TRIP. been present would have been able, I am sure, to prevent any serious damage to the park."

President Tappen, of the Park Department, said yesterday that no further action by the Park Board had been taken on the subject of the review, and none was necessary.

"We were asked to give a permit allowing the 7th Regiment to parade on 'the green' for an hour on Saturday, between 5 and 6 p. m. The object was to aid in entertaining the Princess of Spain, who is the guest of the city of New-York. We saw no real objection, believing that the crowd could easily b controlled by the police force which would be on duty. and that small injury would be done to the park or to the trees and shrubbery. No great damage could occur in sixty minutes, and we granted the permit. This morning the Mayor informed me, when I went to his office to attend the meeting of the Board of Street Opening, that the review had been abandoned. That ends the matter, and, like any other unused permit, it requires no action of the Board.

HE THINKS HARRIS KILLED HIMSELF.

THAT IS CHIEF M'RANE'S OPINION-FRANK HARRIS IDENTIFIES THE BODY AS THAT OF HIS BROTHER.

Although the suspicious circumstances surrounding the death of Edwin C. Harris, the young man from Baltimore whose dead body was found under the beams of the Sturgis House, near Norton's Point. Coney Island, are far from being cleared up, the autherities entertain the belief that Harris committed suicide. Frank Harris, brother of the dead man, in response to Chief John Y. McKane's telegram, came from Baltimore and visited Stillwell's morgue at Gravesend yesterday, and identified the body as that of his brother. Frank Harris said that his brother was twenty-three years old, a mechanical engineer and had studied medicine. He admitted that Edwin was inclined to be dissipated, and on Monday last before starting for New-York drew considerable money from a bank. How much money his brother had be didn't know. He refused to say whether he thought his brother had committed suicide or not. As soon as he can obtain the necessary permit he will have the body shipped to Baltimore.

Chief McKane, of the Coney Island police, said yesterday that he had no reason to change his opinion from that of Thursday, when he said that he believed the man had committed suicide. He said he would not be surprised if, when the doctors held the autopsy. they should find that death had been caused by poison Chief McKane thought the finding of a half-filled with chloral near the body strengthened the opinion that the man had poisoned himself.

The body of Harris was removed from Stillwell's morgue at Gravesend to Brooklyn last evening. It was expected that Coroner Kene would promptly held was expected that Coroner Kene would promptly hold an Inquest and have an autopsy performed, so the body could be taken to Beltimore. Coroner Kene, however, was not ready to proceed with the inquest, and said he could not tell just when he would be ready to hold it. He ordered County Physician Sheppard to make an autopsy this morning. After this is ended, the body will be shipped to Baltimore.

There are still many persons at Coney Island who believe that Harris met foul play. It has not been explained what became of his money. When he was in the West End Pharmacy on Wednesday noon he displayed considerable money while paying the druggist for the chloral he had purchased.

G. M. PULLMAN'S GIFT TO CHICAGO.

The monument which George M. Pullman will civ to Chicago, commemorating the massacre at Fort Dearborn, will be surmounted with a handsome and striking group of statuary in bronze. The group represents two Indians fighting for the possession of a woman who was not killed with the rest, while her little child, with its face turned away from the savages and its arms stretched out imploringly, is for some one to save its mother. The sculptor is Carl Rohlsmith, and the group is cast by the Henry-Eonnard Eronze Company, of this city. The monument will cost $50,000.

MR. AND MRS. GOULD IN THE CATSKILLS. Kingston, N. Y., June 2 (special).-George J. Sould's tally-he party, consisting of himself, Mrs. Gould, M. Carter, Howard Gould and W. S. Mallett,

Mr. Gould's private secretary, went up to his Fur lough Lake retreat in the Catskills this morning. They arrived here last night, having left New-Yor last Saturday and driven up the east shore of the Hudson. F. J. Moss, of Brooklyn, was also in the party. The party will remain in the mountains about a week and spend a portion of the time whipping the streams for trout.

MRS. BLAINE AND HER FAMILY GOING ABROAD. Mrs. James G. Blaine and Miss Blaine, who have sail this morning on the Paris for Southampton. The party accompanying Mrs. Blaine and her daughter will consist of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Damrosch, child and nurse, Miss Loring, Blaine and Conor Coppinger, Mrs. Blaine's grandchildren, and their nurse. James G. Blaine and Don Cameron arrived at the Fifth-ave. Hotel from Washington late last Mr. Cameron will also be of the party. James G. Blaine will remain in this country.

James G. Blaine will remain in this country.

It was said at the hotel yesterday afternoon that Mrs. Blaine was ill, but to a Tribune reporter who called last evening she sent word personally that she was not at all lil. Mr. and Mrs. Damrosch, who will accompany Mrs. Blaine, have closed and given up their house in West Fifty-fifth-st., and will probably reamin abroad during Mrs. Blaine's stay on the Continent.

THE HOSPITAL LIBRARIAN HAS TYPHUS.

Francis Faulkenberg, forty-three years old, one of the librarians of Bellevue He pital, be suffering from typhus fever yesterday, and was removed to the Reception Hospital. He had been ander observation for some time. It is supposed that he caught the fever while caring for patients.

Miss Ada Rehan, Richard Dorney, Mr. Daly's business manager, and Henry Widmer, the leader of his orchestra, will sail for England to-day on the Paris. The rest of the company, which is now playing in Chicago, will sail a week from to-day on the Berlin. Miss Rehan sat in a box at Daily's Theatre last night and saw Mr. Kellar's exhibition Sandow, the strong man, is to oppear at the Casing one week from Monday night and give an exhibition after "Adonis." On the same night Trewey, an entertainer of varied talents, will appear in the roof garden.

George Welty and John W. Springer have formed a partnership as theatrical managers and will manage on the road next season "The Black Crook," "Lights of New-York," a melodrama by Blanch Mursden and William Lytell, and John T. Kelly in "McFee, of Dublin."

THE DOG KNEW WHAT THEY WANTED.

From The Detroit Free Press.

Lyman Blakely, the veteran dog artist of the police department, who holds that drowning is the most humane method by which canine life can be taken, also holds that dogs have reasoning friculties, and tells the following incident in support of his views:

"John W. Hayes, the old Police Court officer, had a dog that had been in his family for a long time, but it had been decided for good reasons that it must go the way of all flesh. The family tailed it over and the decision was finally arrived at that the decay wagon was to call the next day and take the animal to the pound. We called with the wagon the next day, but the dog could not be found. We called again the next day, and were told that we had scarce by left the day before when the dog put in an appearance. But he could not be found at our second visit. We called the third day, and although the day had reappeared soon after we had left on the previous day, he was not to be found at our tried visit. Then a search was instituted, and the dog was found under a bed. He had crawled clear to the furthest corner. He arted just like a human being that was aware his life was being sought, and no argument can convince me that the dog did not understand the conversation of the family that had condemned him to death, and knew just what the dog wagon meant to him. Yes, sir: I believe intelligent dogs have the power of reasoning as well as human beings, and a great many of them have more actual brain power and common sense than some people." IN THE JUDGES' HANDS.

THE SUNDAY CLOSING QUESTION WILL BE DECIDED TO-DAY.

ARGUMENT IN THE GOVERNMENT'S WORLD'S FAIR CASE ENDED-THE SULTAN OF JOHORE IS COMING-GOVERNOR FLOWER AT

THE EXPOSITION-SPECIAL DAYS. Chicago, June 2 .- Argument in the case of the Government against the Exposition authorities for an injunction against the opening of the gates on Sunday was ented to-day. This morning Mr. High, on behalf of the Government, made the closing address, reviewing the arguments already advanced, and inisting upon the absolute character of the Governmental control. Mr. High produced a report of the dedication exercises of the Exposition and read a porion of President Higinbotham's address in which he formally transferred the enterprise to the National Commission. This, Mr. High held, placed the entire Exposition in the hands of the Government, and invested the Federal officials with full control of the

"What do you think Mayor Harrison meant when he tendered Chicago's distinguished guest the freedom of the city?" asked Judge Jenkins, referring to the courtesy extended to the Dake of Verngua. The question caused a ripple of laughter which the Court had to rebuke with his gavel.

"Well," answered Mr. High, who was taken aback by the query, "of course, that Is for Your Honors to first move toward a decision in the suit was made. Fager to obtain a permanent ruling United States Attorney Milchrist asked that in the absence of a permanent decision a restraining order be made

It is now positively known that the far famed Oriental monarch, the Sultan of Johore, is coming to the Fair. His Majesty cabled the fact of his intended visit to Deputy Commissioner V. W. Lake, and directed Mr. Lake to meet him at Carlsbad. Germany, to accompany him to Chicago. Mr. Lake at once left here for New-York, whence he will sail for Europe on the Campania, and expects to get back to Chicago before the end of the present month. The sultan is famous for his great wealth, and is said to possess the finest collection of diamonds and ruties and pearls in the world. He will bring retinue of ten servants and two English physicians. whom he carries with him to look after his health.

District Attorney Milchrist would not hazard an opinion as to the outcome of the case. The impres-sion prevails, however, among the attorneys who have listened to the hearing that the Court will rule that the Government has no nuthority over the Fair to the extent of regulating the hours and days of closing the gates. From noon until a late hour the evening the Judges remained in consultation. The afternoon counsel in the case were notified to be in attendance at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning, at which hour a decision will in all probability be rendered, although the opinion of the Court may not be filed until a later date. a later date.

Should it be decided by the judicial proceedings now instituted that the gates of the Fair can be opened every Sunday until the close of the whole show the Council of Administration and the subordinate governing hodles will find that it is easier to talk about inviting ministers of all creeds and sects to preach and conduct religious services on those days within the grounds than it is to get general acceptances of such invitations. Not every minister of the Chrisman Church who has spoken in favor of opening the gates on Sunday can be induced to perform his elected functions in the "White City," where there are no churches or chapels. The only semblance of one is the reproduction of the La Rabida Convent, and there is hardly aroom enough in that quaint storehouse of Columbian relies for the visitor to move around. It is not so much the absence of conventional houses of wership in the park that will trouble the managers of the Eair, but flocks and preach to the Sanday crowds at the Fair as if it were a species of entertainment resembling sal Moody have ideas about religious services which would hardly harmonize with the views of the Exposition officials, no matter how auxious they are to carry out the promises made regarding services at the Fair on Sunday. Although Evangelist Moody has tried to be non-committal on the question of accepting an invita-tion to preach at the Fair when it comes, he has nevertheless said enough to justify the conclusion that unless he is allowed to conduct the same kind of a Avenue Church, he will politely decline the Invita-tion that is being held back by the Supreme Council, probably for the reason that the members of that body have serious misgivings as to Mr. Moody's acceptance of such an invitation. He does not propose to be used as a drawing card for the pecuniary benefit of the Prelates of the Roman Catholle Church would not necept invitations to conduct religious services in a music hall, because such a proceeding would be contrary to the prescribed forms and canons of that church. The Protestant Episcopal rectors of prominence, with one or two possible exceptions, would take a similar view of such a departure from the sanctuary of their parishloners by posing as open advocate of a Sunday fair. The Rev. Dr. Rain-ford, of New-York, who believes in evangelical methods in the Episcopal Church, and the much criticised Dr. Parkarea, of the Presbyterian faith, would no doubt accept invitations if they were sent. So would the Salvation Army leaders, the Unitarian and Universilist ministers, but hishop Potter, the Rev. Morgan Dix. the Rev. Joseph Cock and preachers of the orthodox school would respectfully decline to come to Chicago for such a purpose. The Expestion officials realize that they must get preachers of prominence, those who are known as pulpit oraters, in order to make the religious feature of Sunday opening a success To fail in that respect would give the opponents a Sunday fair the opportunity to say that the chur pastors, as a body, took the Sabbatarian view of the The Fair programme for next Sunday, so although there is only one more day to make the arrangements. Choral Director Tomlins is ready to provide the choir of 200 voices to lead in the congregational singing.

The powers that he at Jackson Park are not greatly exercised over the court proceedings. Director of Works Burnham yesterday issued an order to the department chiefs instructing them to have their buildings ready for visitors next Sunday.

Governor Flower arrived in Chicago vesterday morn ng, ate a lunch and rode immediately to the World' Fair grounds. He went to the New York State Building like a loyal New-Yorker, and, after inspecting it went to the Woman's Building and made a speech and then drove about the grounds making a general survey He was accompanied by Mrs. Flower, lds son-in-lay and daughter, General and Mrs. Hawley, Miss Emma K. Schley and his private secretary, T. S. Williams. When the party returned to the Grand Pacific in the evening Governor Flower said: "That Fair is good for the blues. I can hardly say enough in praise of it.

"Yes, I think the Fair is a grand success, and it makes me feel proud of my country when I look at those great white palaces and the beautiful things contain. I feel proud, too, of my State as it presented. New-Yorkers have certainly added a fine building to the marvellous group, and her ex-hibits are all creditable. I am proud of the New York Commission, and the Lady Managers have done excellent work. I hope that people in the East, and particularly in New-York, will come to Chicago this year instead of going to Europe. If they do thi -and I believe they will-they will see by far more

"But one suggestion would I make to the N York Commissioners and that is that they open the State building on Sunday and choose some minister to conduct religious services. If all the State buildings were opened for religious worship on Sun-things of beauty and interest than they would in day, what a glorious day it would be."

Governor Flower expects to temain in Chicago two weeks or more, and will go to Duluth, where he has interests, before returning to New-York.

Vice Chairman King of the Committee on Aw ent a communication to the Board of Control yesterday, that was accepted as a complete surrender the demands of the foreign commissioners. After declaring that the system adopted is already in actual operation the communication says: "There is absointely no foundation for the statement that an innvidual judge declines an award. In every instance the decision rests with the departmental committee of international judges. That committee exercises purely and originally a jury function. It can alter, modify, accept or reject the report of the individual judge; it can itself, as a body or through a committee, re-examine and review the exhibit primarily ex-smined by the individual expert. Furthermore, the Executive Committee on Awards will cheerfully appoint at the request of the departmental committee three, five or more judges on the occasion of this primary examination."

Meeting the objection that foreign judges cannot be summoned to serve at this late date, Mr. King says the committee will postpone the assembling of juries until July 15 or August 1.

Archbishop Satolii, accompanied by Archbishop Feehan, of Chicago, Father Thomas Moreschint, and other Catholic clergymen, visited the Fair this morning. The party arrived at the grounds in carriages. They entered the Midway Plaisance and were driven slowly that Monsignor Satolli might view the sights of the Midway. Passing icto the Fair proper the distinguished party was driven south along the lagoon, passing the Women's, Horticulture, Transportation and Mines and Mining buildings. A short stop was made at the doorway of each building to give Monsignor satolli an opportunity of viewing the structure. Quite a stop was made on the Administration Plaza in front of the MacMonnies fountain. The Papal Ablegate seemed lost in wonder at the grardenr of the scene. The party was driven over the lagoon bridge to La Rabida Convent. They were met by William E. Curtis and Captain Burke, and escorted immediately to the miniature tomb of Columbus, where they remained several minutes. After an hour's inspection of the convent the party was driven north past the Manufactures Building to the Irish village, where some time was spent.

The Mexican exhibit in the Manufactures and Liberal Arts Building was formally opened to-day. There were no speeches or exercises of any kind. Senor Serrano, Delegate-tietieral from Mexico, accompanied by his staff of assistants, went to the Mexican section and directed the employes in charge of the section to remove the coverings from the exhibits. After inspecting the section the senor and his party departed.

Director Charles II. Schwab says that the Exposition has cleared a quarter of a million dollars on the month of May, and as a result of a general reduction of forces to begin next Monday, a better result is confidently anti-cipated for the month of June. Mr. Schwab took a rosy view of the situation, and claimed that the financial success of the Fair is already assured. He says the running expenses of the Fair will be but $100,000 a week for the present and this will be cut down when the working forces are reduced. Mr. Schwab says the receipts for the month of May have averaged 224,000 daily.

It is a fact, however, that more than enough to wipe out any balance in the bank has been long due contractors, and certain high officials of the Exposition have each been waiting for the whole of their salaries, or have been paid in part only with the understanding that when the money came in faster they would get all that was due then.

MR. WANAMAKER SUGGESTS A BOYCOTT.

World's Fair and Mr. Baer's position in the matter, is one from John Wanamaker, of Philadelphia, who

I am inclined to believe that Christian people ought not to assist in any way in making successful an exhibition which would never have received the approval and support of the people of the United States its preparation, if it had ever been supposed that when the Exposition was fitally opened the provisions of the acts of Congress authorizing and assisting it were to be ignored, in defiance of the public scattmact of what is supposed to be a large majority of the population of this country.

SAN PRANCISCO MAY HAVE A FAIR.

San Francisco, June 2.-The proposition to create a commercial World's Fair for San Francisco by ransferring the bulk of the choicest foreign and domestic exhibits at present on show at Chicago to an Francisco to be placed in Golden Gate Park, s suggested at a meeting of Californians in Chicag Wednesday night, has been the talk of the city. A number of influential men were spoken to on the subject, and while most of them were in favor of it, nearly all doubted the financial success of the venture. The consensus of opinion was that if the plan were feasible, and if a great showing could be made by the latter part of December, San Francisco should have the fair.

THE PROGRAMME FOR TRAVELLERS' DAY.

St. Louis, June 2.-At last night's meeting of the Board of Directors of the Travellers' Protective As-sociation, President George S. McGrew stated that all arrangements had been perfected for the Travellers! Protective Association day at the Fair grounds on Saturday, June 10. The programme s arranged is as follows: Address of welcome by Governor Altgeld, of Illinois; "The United States," Vice-President Stevenson; "Missouri," Governor Stone, of Missouri; "A Message from the South," Judge Edgar E. Bryant, of Arkansas; "Tennessee," M. Greer, of Tennessee; "The Lone Star State," ex-Governor Richard B. Hubbard, of Texas.

It consists of a cumber of framed photo graphs and a large album containing the certificates and blanks used in the department. The photographs show the hospitals in East Sixteenth st. and North Brother Island, under the control of the Health Board, the ambulances and sick wagons, and the steambout, Franklin Edson, and some interiors of

THE SALE OF ST. LUKE'S HOSPITAL.

A FRIEND SAYS THAT THE ACTUAL PROFIT FROM THE TRANSACTION WILL BE ABOUT $629,000.

To the Editor of The Tribune. Sir: In connection with the sale of St. Luke's Hospital property at Fifty fifthest, the report has been circulated and gained credence that St. Luke's will realize an enormous profit by this transaction, which in your base of June 1 is placed at $2,350,000. Nothing is further from the truth than this, as a little reflection will show. You reason that the ground cost originally $50,000, and is sold for $2,400,000, therefore the net profit is $2,350,000. But hundreds of thousands of dollars were spent for the buildings and their outfit, the cost of which would have to be deducted from the price obtained in order to show the profit if the hospital was going out of existence. As, however, a new hospital is to be built on Amsterdam-ave, at an outlay of $530,000 for the existence. As, however, a new hospital is to be built on Amsterdam-ave, at an outlay of $520,000 for the ground and say $1,250,000 for the buildings and outlit, it appears that st. Luke's would receive in exchange for its old plant a new plant and about $620,000 in cash, which latter item would really represent the profit.

If the Senate refuses to meet with the House in John session a hold-over government may result, as was the case recently in Connecticut, with more or in the case recently in Connecticut, with more or in the case recently in Connecticut, with more or in the case recently in Connecticut, with more or plurality elections.

Looking further into the matter, it will be noted that the new bulldings will have a capacity of 300 beds, instead of 200 in the old bulldings. This means an increased expense of $50,000 per annum, while the income from the above profit of $620,000 (which may estily be reduced to $500,000 if the cost of the new plant should overrun estimates) would not be that it probably will defeat the purpose of the state more than half that amount. The net result of the more than half that amount. The net result of the sale for the hospital is, therefore, the possession of a new plant, built in accordance with modern hysicale principles, and an enlarged capacity of 300 beds, but also an urgent need of an additional annual income of 825,000 over and above some $10,000 required to make good the current annual deficit.

It will be easily seen what harm might be done to the institution if your report of $2,350,000 profits was allowed to pass uncontradicted, and assistance would be withheld from the hospital under the wrong impression that it was not needed.

A FRIEND OF ST. LUKE'S.

New-York, June 2, 1893.

OBITUARY.

WILLIAM A. HOWELL.

William A. Howell died at his home, No. 68 Para Place, Newark, on Thursday, in his sixty-eighth year. He was born in Newark, and at an early age learned the clothing business under Nehemiah Perry. In 1850 he married Lucetta Banks Gould, daughter of Robert S. Gould. He made a competency in the clothing business and invested heavily in real estate. The panic of 1873 caught him with a large amount of property on his bands. In 1884 his wife died. He was for many years a trustee of the South Park Presbyterlan Church, Newark, and was a member of St. John's Lodge of Mason. He left a son. N. Howell. The funeral will be held next Monday 2 p. m., from the house, in Park Flace, Newark.

WALTER EMERSON.

Boston, Jane 2 (Special).-Walter Emerson, the ornet player, died suddenly lest evening at the home of his parents in the Hotel Edinburgh, No. 261 Columbus-ave. The cause of death was acute peritonitis. He was born in New-Bedford, March 19, 1856. He was the only son of George and Sarah Emerson. After graduating from the Melrose High School, he entered a commercial college in Boston, and finally became interested in the leather business with his father. At the age of seventeen he began to play the cornet and soon acquired such skill that at the age of twenty-one he went to Europe with Gimore as solo cornetist. Since 1878 he had travelled extensively throughout Europe and the United States For several seasons he delighted the throngs that frequented Nantusket Beach during the rummer months. His last public appearance in this city was at the Elits' benefit. He was the manager of the Emerson Concert Company.

Boston, June 2 (Special).-Mrs. H. B. Geodwin died at her home, No. 281 Newbury-st., last evening of pneumonia, after an filmess of six weeks. Mrs. Goodwic, author of the "Wingood Series" and of "Dorothy Gray," was born in Chesterville, Me., sixty-six years ago, but had been a resident of Boston for many years. She was the daughter of the late Benjamin B. and Elizabeth Lowell Bradbury. Before her marriage to the late George C. Goodwin, founder of the wholesale drug firm bearing his name, she had written many short stories and sketches, which were published in magazines and papers over her initials, H. F. B. She was also a successful teacher of girls in Bangor, Me., and later principal of the Charlestown (Mass.) Female Seminary. For the last sixteen years Mrs. Goodwin had been intimately associated with the educational work of Wellesley College. Mrs. Good-win travelled and studied in England, France, Germany, Italy and Spain. For twelve years she was secretary of the Students' Aid Society of Wellesley, devoting nearly half her waking hours to the work of helping needy young women to obtain an educa-tion. Her first novel, "Madge," was received with tion. Her first bovel, "Mange," sherbrooke," great favor. This was followed by "Sherbrooke," great favor. The Brighand life, "Dr. Howell's a story of New-England life. Mrs. Goodwin's third book, was written during menths of great physical pain. "One Among Many" added to the fame of its author. "Christine's Fortune" is a picture of German life.

THE MUDDLE IN RHODE ISLAND.

WHAT REPUBLICANS SAY. THE ELECTION MACHINERY SHOULD BE MODERNIZED. Philadelphia Press.

From The Philadelphia Press.

There is neither justice nor political sagacity in continuing such a situation any longer than is needed to correct it. It is a source of constant irritation and danger. It is an-American and out of touch with the public opinion of the day. The Republicans of Rhode Island, if they are wise, will lasten to aid in modernizing their constitution and in simplifying their election laws.

THE DEMOCRATIC TACTICS DISGRACEFUL.

The Democratic Party of Rhode Island, in adopting the very tactics which so disgraced the so-called "Topulist House" of the Kansas Legislature, is not acting in a way which throws much listre on the Democrats of Rhode Island, or on the system of state Government in that section. There is very figle attempt at pretence in this effort of the House of Representatives of Rhode Island. SHORT-SIGHTED POLITICS.

From The Newark Advertiser.

From The Newark Advertiser.

The Republicans undoubtedly have the Constitution and the laws on their side in this fight; but the Constitution is an antiquated relic handed down from colonial days, and they are getting behind it for protection, simply to secure temporary partisan advantage. More voters declared in raver of the Democratic party for Governor than for the Republican; and, although it may be strictly legal to defeat the will of the people by resorting to tricks in the Legislature, it will prove shorted-sighted politics. THE PEOPLE'S WILL SHOULD BE CARRIED OUT.

From The Lewiston (Me.), Journal. From The Lewiston (Me.), Journal.

This way of doing things is not in accord with the real spirit of our Institutions, and belongs up in the garret with the witch-sticks, the slave-driver's whip and other antiquities. Rhode Island should hasten to amend her charter and adopt up-to-date methods of carrying out the will of the people, no matter what political party may win a temperary success. Both branches of the Legislature have taken the preliminary steps in this direction.

WILL HASTEN PLURALITY ELECTIONS.

A DESPERATE AND REVOLUTIONARY COURSE.

A RUFFIAN STABS A POLICEMAN.

Detectives Haggerty and Herlich, of the Madisonst. police station, last evening arrested John Gallagher, of No. 160 Monroe-st.; Cornelius Collins, of No. 237 Madison-st., and Edward Weeks, of No. 50 Rutgers-Madison-st., and Edward Weeks, of No. 50 Rutgers-st., on a charge of burglary. As the officers were leading the men along Monroe-st., James Mahoney, living at No. 117 Monroe-st., tried to liberate his friends. Patrolman sheehan run to the assistance of the officers. In the struggle which followed Ma-honey drew a knife and stabout Policeman Sheehan in the arm. The wound is an ugly one. The men were all arrested.
